Terrible AI and not overall amusing. It's Final Fantasy meets "some random poker like game".
